Raleigh, Nov. 14th, 1850 93

MEETING IN ROCKINGHAM COUNTY.

A meeting of all persons, friends to our National Union, was held in the Court-house, in Wentworth, on Tuesday the 27th day of November, 1850; and, on motion, Jno L. Lesneur, Esq., was called to the chair, and Col. E. W. Hancock was requested to act as Secretary.

The meeting being organized, on motion of Rawly Galloway, Esq., a committee of four was appointed by the chair to draft and report resolutions expressive of the views of the meeting upon the subject which had called them together. The said committee consisted of Rawly Galloway, W. P. Watt, Joseph Holderby and W. F. Carter, Esqrs., who retiring for a short time, returned and reported the following resolutions, which were adopted with unanimity and enthusiasm, viz:

1. Resolved, That we cherish an abiding and ardent attachment to the Union of these States, established by the patriotism and wisdom of our forefathers, and commended to us in terms of deep and affecting earnestness, as the sheet anchor of our safety, and palladium of our Liberties, by the immortal "Father of his Country."

2. Resolved, That we have recently observed, with painful solicitude, the efforts of fanatics in the North, and ultraists in the South, to get up sectional divisions amongst us—to alienate the people of one part of the country from those of the other—and, by destroying mutual confidence and fraternal harmony, to bring upon us that greatest of national calamities, a dissolution of the Union. But we hail with the highest degree of satisfaction the efforts of the distinguished statesmen and patriots of both political parties in Congress, who have done so much by the passage of the "Measures of Adjustment," to restore peace and harmony to our councils, and to cement the bond of our glorious Union.

3. Resolved, That our thanks are especially due, and we hereby tender them to the illustrious statesmen who shine as a brilliant galaxy in our political firmament, to-wit: Clay, Cass, Dickinson, Webster, Foote and Douglas, for the very able and efficient services rendered by them to our common country, amid the appalling perils of the recent crisis through which we have, as we fondly trust, just safely passed.

4. Resolved, That any attempt on the part of the Northern people to repeal the law commonly known as the "Fugitive Slave Law," will be regarded by us as a demonstration of implacable hostility to the southern institution of domestic slavery; and as patriots and Southerners, we solemnly pledge ourselves to adhere most steadfastly to the Union, the fugitive slave law, and all the other measures of adjustment, with our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor.

5. Resolved, That we are happy in the opportunity afforded by the presence of the Honorable Stephen A. Douglas amongst us to render to him, in proper person, the homage of our grateful acknowledgements for his patriotic devotion to the cause of the Constitution and the Union, exhibited—not only in the Senate Chamber at Washington—but still more strikingly, if possible, at home in his own city of Chicago, where he fearlessly stood forth in his true character as an expounder of the Constitution, and defender of the laws of his country.

Before the sense of the meeting was taken upon the foregoing resolutions, the Hon. Stephen A. Douglas having been specially waited upon, and earnestly invited to do so, made his appearance in the meeting, and pronounced a speech of about an hour's duration, in favor of the Union. It would be an act of gross injustice to the distinguished Senator from Illinois, to attempt a report of his admirable speech delivered on this occasion. It may, however, be properly stated, that he was both able and eloquent—able in the exposition and vindication of the measures of "adjustment" recently passed by Congress—and eloquent in the glowing tribute he rendered to the magic power and influence of that Union, under the auspices of which, in less than a century, we, as a nation, have attained the position of one of the first powers of the world, and have sent our "banner of the free and brave" into every country, and upon every ocean, which can be subjected to the dominion of commercial enterprise. In language of commanding force, and in fervid strains of patriotic enthusiasm, he invoked the "frowing indignation" of all present upon the "traitor knaves," North and South, who desire a dissolution of our Union, and are engaged in wicked machinations to accomplish it. And professing himself to be an ardent Democrat, he nevertheless rendered to his co-laborers in the Senate—Clay, Webster, Mangum, and others—their just need of compliment and praise; and declared that whatever conflicts might hereafter occur between himself and either of them, he should ever remember that they, and each of them, were friendly to the cause of the Union in the hour of its recent danger, and labored faithfully for its preservation. He closed amid a burst of rapturous appplause.

Nathaniel J. Palmer, Esq., of Caswell, also addressed the meeting in a few appropriate remarks, in which he expressed his entire concurrence in the views and sentiments of Judge Douglas.

A call was then made for that distinguished patriot and sterling friend of the Union, John Kerr, Esq., of Caswell, who was present, and declined speaking for the reason, as he assigned, that he was unable, and therefore unwilling to add anything to the eloquent and patriotic remarks of the gentleman who had preceded him.

The meeting was a large one, and the utmost degree of enthusiasm was exhibited in their attachment to the Union.

On motion, it was ordered that the proceedings of the meeting be published in the Raleigh Standard, the Register, and Greensborough Patriot; and then the meeting adjourned.

Mr. Steele moved to amend by inserting a clause, providing that the said bill shall take effect when it is ascertained, by a fair census, that the said County has the requisite population, to be judged of by the next Legislature.

Messrs. Hayes, Dargan, Erwin, Avery, and Fleming, supported the bill in a few remarks, and Messrs. Winston and Steele opposed it.

Mr. Rayner hoped that the bill would be laid on the table, that the constitutional difficulty might be removed. He had every desire to do justice to the West, and was satisfied that in this case they labored under a grievance. He concluded with a motion to lay on the table.

After some further remarks from Mr. Avery and Mr. Siler, and Mr. Fleming, the question was taken on the motion of Mr. Rayner, and it was lost.

The question then recurring on the amendment of Mr. Steele, it was lost.

The bill then passed its 2nd reading by a vote of ayes 59, noes 29.

On motion of Mr. Erwin, the engrossed bill from the Senate concerning Jury Trials in the County of Buncombe, was taken up, and the amendment of the Senate concurred in.

On motion of Mr. Drake, the bill giving the election of Clerks and Masters in Equity to the people, was taken up and made the order of the day for Saturday next.

The House then took a recess until 3 o'clock.

Correspondence of the 'Salisbury Watchman.'

The Locos have difficulty in agreeing upon a candidate to beat Maj. Hinton for Treasurer. They well remember the trouble Col. Wheeler's lack of Arithmetic gave them a few years since. So they have thrown him overboard. 'Tis said that Mr. Coursis is their caucus nominee. But, an under current reports that his arithmetic won't do either.

Yours, &c.

MR. GILMER'S SPEECH.—It will be highly gratifying to the rest of Mr. Gilmer's constituents, as it is to ourselves, to find the high estimate and unaffected praise, from all quarters, of his speech on the slavery resolutions. The comparatively few who differ from him, give him credit for ability and patriotic feeling; and those who agree with him in doctrine and sentiment owe him their thanks for this effort for our common country, its peace and its rights. We hope to have the speech in full for our next paper—it will be a good beginning for a new year.

CHRISTMAS.

O'd Christmas has showed his bright visage once more,
And with Mr. John Frost raps again at the door!
We were fearing, so little of Winter we'd seen,
The old boy had stopped to rest, somewhere between
And taken a snooze, while time onward did run—
And thus we'd be cheated of all our fun.
But here he is come! and as all hands will greet him;
Even grave Legislators quit their labors to meet him;
Like the rest, we've resolved to be merry and gay,
And turn DAILY out with the DEVIL to play!

Or in solemn prose kind reader, (for, as you will perceive by the above, we are no poet,) we must claim your indulgence for the nonce, if we fail to issue our diurnal BULLETIN on the morrow. The lex non scripta is very arbitrary, and JOURNEYMAN PRINTERS cannot be made to work on Christmas!

The compliments of the season to all!

A POINT OF ORDER.

It will be recollected by those who noticed Saturday's proceedings in the Senate, that the bill for the aid of the Wilmington and Manchester Rail Road Co., after having been once rejected, was reconsidered, and again rejected. Upon its second rejection, however, Mr. LILLINGTON, Senator from Rowan and Davie, changed his vote to the majority for the purpose of again moving a reconsideration; which he did on Monday.

Speaker EDWARDS decided a motion to reconsider a second time out of order. Mr. Lillington contested the point of order, in a very able and ingenious argument—quoting as a precedent against the decision of the Speaker, a similar point differently decided in 1852, in the National Legislature, and more recently, the decision at the time of the passage of the Texas Boundary Bill, which is doubtless familiar to all.

This interesting point of order has been postponed for consideration. Upon it hangs the fate of the Bill, which has given rise to it, and which is of essential importance, hardly less to a number of citizens in any one section, than to the State at large!

SOUTH CAROLINA LEGISLATURE.

The House reconsidered the vote, on Monday, by which was indefinitely postponed the bill for appointing Delegates to a Southern Congress, and a motion was made to amend it by adding a provision for a Convention of the People on the fourth Monday in February, 1852, to consider such action as might be taken by the said Southern Congress. Both the amendment and the bill were passed in the House on Wednesday—yeas 109, nays 12; and, with some amendment, passed the Senate the next day—yeas 40 nays 3. The Delegates to the State Convention are to be elected in February, and those to the Southern Congress in next October. No time is fixed for the meeting of either of those bodies.

On Wednesday, also, three ballots were had for Senator, on the last of which Mr. Rhett was elected, he having received 97 votes, Mr. Hammond 46, and 10 scattering.

The Senate have elected R. W. Barnwell, John P. Richardson, W. Hampton and Langdon Cheves, as deputies to the Southern Congress. A grand salute was fired at the request of the Governor, both at Columbia and Charleston, immediately upon his receiving the news of the decisive action of both Houses.

☞ It was a sight worth seeing—that Bowl of Egg-Nogg furnished our sanctum by JOHN KANE, yesterday. 'Twould have "filled the eye" of a whale. It was *eggs*actly nice!

☞ WILLIS gives the following description of the effect of Jenny Lind's singing upon Mr. Webster, at her late Concert in Washington, through the "Home Journal:"

"He (Mr. Webster) leaned back, with the stately repose which marks all his postures and movements, and, conversing between whiles with his friends on either side, looked on as he might do at special pleading in a court of law. It was at the close of one of those tangled skeins of music with which an unpractised brain finds it so difficult to thread the needle of an idea, that he made the remark, overheard by the attendant and taken immediately to Jenny Lind: 'Why does'nt she give us one of the simple mountain songs of her own land?'

"The mountain-song soon poured forth its loud beginning, impatiently claiming sympathy from the barren summits that alone listened where it is supposed to be sung. The voice softened, soothed with its own outpouring—the herdsman's heart wandered and left him singing forgetfully, and then the audience as if transformed to an Ariel that 'puts a girdle round the earth,' commenced following the last clear note through the distance. Away it sped, softly and evenly, a liquid arrow through more liquid air, lessening with the sweetness it left behind it, but fleeing leagues in seconds; and with no errand but to go on unaltered till it should die—and, behold! on the track of it, with the rest of us, was gone the heavy-winged intellect of Webster! We had listened with our eyes upon him. As all know who have observed him, his habitual first mark of interest in a new matter, is a pull he gives to the lobe of his left ear—as if, to the thought-intrenched castle of his brain, there was a portcullis to be lowered at any welcome summons for entrance. The tone sped and lessened, and Webster's broad chest grew erect and expanded. Still on went the entrancing sound, altered by distance only, and changeless in the rapt attitude of the cadence—on—far on—as if only upon the bar of the horizon it could find rest at last—and forward leaned the statesman, with his head clasped over the balustrade, and his head raised to its fullest lift above his shoulders, and the luminous caverns of his eyes opened wide upon the still lips of the singer. The note died—and those around exchanged glances as the enchantress touched the instrument before her—but Webster sat motionless. The breathless stillness was broken by a tumult of applause, and the hand that was over the gallery moved up and down upon the cushion with unconscious assent, but the spell was yet on him. He slowly leaned back, with his eyes still fixed on the singer, and suddenly observing that she had turned to him after courtesying to the audience, and was repeating her acknowledgements unmistakably to himself, he rose to his feet and bowed to her, with the grace and stateliness of the monarch that he is. It was not much to see, perhaps—neither does the culmination of a planet differ very distinguishedly from the twinkle of a lamp—but we congratulated Jenny Lind, with our first thought after it, at what is perhaps her best single triumph on this side of the water, the sounding of America's deepest mind with her plummet of enchantment."

DIFFICULTY WITH AUSTRIA.—The letters of our Washington Correspondents, by last night's Southern mail, state that the Austrian Charge, (Mr. McCurdy) successor of Col. Webb, is there, but has not obtained his orders yet. Mr. Hulsemann, the Charge from Austria, it is also said, acts as if there was mischief brewing. Independently of these intimations, we have similar hints from other quarters.

Rumor says there is a flare up between the American Secretary of State and Mr. Hulsemann; that the latter has been demeaning himself discourteously, in consequence of the kind treatment we have given the Hungarian refugees, officially and unofficially; that, therefore, Mr. McCurdy will not be instructed to go out of the country until Mr. Hulsemann renders something of an apology for hard and harsh words; and that these are the causes of the delay.

Mr. Cass indirectly alluded to this difficulty in some remarks made on Wednesday, in the Senate, and congratulated himself that the Government was doing what he wished to do by resolution—that is, ceasing to have diplomatic intercourse with Austria. In a day or two we shall probably have more information on the matter.

N. Y. Express.

The venerable President of the late Georgia Convention, Thomas Spalding, of McIntosh, whose years have nearly reached the scriptural limit of fourscore, upon taking the chair, addressed the body over which he was called to preside in the few but expressive words which follow:

Gentlemen of the Convention: I thank you for the honor you do me in placing me in the chair on this memorable occasion. It is perhaps an appropriate—I feel that it is a graceful termination of my long life.

Gentlemen, it may be expected that I should say something of my opinions on this occasion. For the first time in twenty-five years, Congress has appeared willing to listen to our complaints, and I am filled with hopes for the future. For fifty years, the most enlightened nations in Europe—France, Spain, Italy, and Germany—have been laboring in blood and through desolation after "free Government." For sixty-three years we have known quietude. From a small people we have become a great nation under our Constitution—and, rather than THAT CONSTITUTION should perish, I would wish that myself and every human being that has a drop of my blood in his veins should perish. To use the words of Homer,

"Before that dreadful day,
May me and mine lie pressed beneath our monumental clay.'

WM. C. RIVES ON THE COMPROMISE.—Wm. C. Rives, of Virginia, our present Minister to France, has written an admirable letter to a friend in Connecticut, on the subject of the compromise measures, and the present situation of the country. It is highly patriotic, and, as is usual with him, most polished in style.

The "Bug" also at Home again.

I HAVE just returned the second time from Boston, N. York, and Philadelphia, having spent nearly all of August and September in said Cities, getting up our CLOTHING, every article of which was cut by himself, and made up under my own inspection, and I presume there is no one in North Carolina now, who would be verdant enough to question my capacity after the eloquent tribute paid to my 'artistic skill, in our last Superior Court, by Judge, Counsel on both sides, witnesses and Jurors I refer to the case of "Biggs vs Oliver"—action for damages, in which I had to pay $250, in consequence of my extended reputation.

Come in, if you please, and assist me in paying off the judgment by buying our goods. Who is there in North Carolina, who has not heard of the Hon. George E. Badger, the Hon. Wm. H. Haywood, Jr., and 'Bug' Oliver, Why 'their fame is no more to be hemmed in by State lines than their talents are to be circumscribed within the same narrow limits'

We are connected, as all our customers know—and if they don't know it, they may—with no Northern House—but we are Tailors ourselves—buy our own goods, and import quite as many of what we purchase in proportion to our business, as any house in this State or out of it. There is no establishment here or elsewhere that possesses any advantage over us. We buy where every body else buys, and we think we understand our business and buy as cheap as any. We say our clothing is equal to any offered for sale in North Carolina, and, we think superior, being Judges ourselves of clothing. Of that though, we will leave the public to decide, when they examine for themselves. One thing is certain—without intending to reflect upon any one—we will sell our clothing cheaper than the same articles can be bought for in any of the Northern Cities, and as cheap as any body that comes here, who does not steal his clothing ready made

Our stock embracing Drab, Black, Blue, Green Gray, and other OVERCOATS, from 6 to $20 and upwards. Cloaks, full circle, $18 upwards. Frock, dress, and Sack COATS from 7 to $12 and upwards. PANTALOONS, all colors and prices, from $4 to $8. VESTS, all kinds and all sizes, at all prices from $1,25 to $5. In fact, every thing that can be found in any similar establishment in the Union.

We are North Carolinians. We are permanently located here, and if we sell as cheap as others, why not give us the preference? If we do not sell as good goods at as small a price, we will not ask your patronage.
